Witnesses Favor Link Of Keystone Shortway

MILTON (AP) — A series of witnesses Thursday endorsed construction of a 21-mile stretch of the Keystone Shortway along a Central Pennsylvania route favored by the Highways Department.

Roland F. Harbeson, president of the Milton Chamber of Commerce, told a department hearing on the proposed route that construction of the shortway would mean general economic growth in the region.

Harbeson testified that population follows transportation, adding: "We can look forward to the greatest development in the Milton area, which, to coin a phrase, we have termed the crossroads of Pennsylvania's future through the acquisition of the Keystone Shortway."

Charles E. Noyes, Williamsport, executive secretary of the Keystone Shortway Assn., said the entire 290-mile Sharon to Stroudsburg route will provide economic benefits to all communities along the route.

The only opponent to testify was Harold De Green, Danville trucker and farmer. He contended it might hurt farmers whose land might be split or destroyed by construction of the road.

John F. Zeller, assistant to the president of Bucknell University, and Gustave W. Weber, president of Susquehanna University, spoke in favor of the road project.

The 21-mile section under discussion at the hearing starts about 1.4 miles west of White Deer Dam, crosses U. S. 15 and the Susquehanna River and ends just north of New Columbia, Northumberland County.

48 Killed, 12 Injured As French Airliner Crashes On Takeoff At Bordeaux Field

BORDEAUX, France (AP) — A French Tai airliner bound for Africa crashed, burned and exploded here late Thursday night. Forty-eight of 60 persons aboard were reported killed.

The 12 reported survivors include three children. They were rushed to a Bordeaux hospital. Most were reported burned seriously.

Steel Strike End Key To Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration counts on unprecedented prosperity and quick settlement of the steel strike to keep this year's budget balanced.

Budget Director Maurice Stans told newsmen Thursday the government should wind up the 1960 fiscal year next June 30 with a surplus of 95 million dollars. That's 25 million more than President Eisenhower forecast to Congress last January.

New Estimate

Since January, Stans disclosed, estimates of both spending and income have increased by nearly two billion dollars. The budget now is expected to approach 79 billion dollars, compared with actual spending last year of about 80½ billion.

Stans said the new estimate of a surplus is based on the assumption the steel strike will be settled within the next two or three weeks. It also assumes a quick rebound of production, profits and incomes higher than ever.

Mrs. Khrushchev Knows Mind

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Nina Khrushchev demonstrated Thursday that she not only knows English but her own mind.

During luncheon at the University of Pittsburgh, Chancellor Edward H. Litchfield asked her what had impressed her about Pittsburgh.

"The people are so large," she replied.

"Do you mean tall?" Litchfield asked.

"No," Mrs. Khrushchev said. "I mean big."

Engine Trouble

Airport people said the plane apparently developed engine trouble and had difficulty lifting from the runway.

"It's engines didn't sound right," said a French air force officer stationed at the airport. The plane cut a wide path through the brush and pines.

"There was a tremendous roar when the plane blew up," said another officer. "We could see two immense balls of flame."

Crash vehicles and rescue teams including truck loads of soldiers from the air unit at the airport streamed out toward flames seen leaping above the trees.

In the airport lounge hysterical relatives and friends surged about begging for information. Some prayed. Others broke guard rails at the field and dashed for the wreck.

The plane caught fire when it hit, witnesses believed.

Air Force May Intercept Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force may attempt early Friday to intercept the paddle-wheel satellite Explorer VI with a ballistic missile launched from a high flying jet bomber.

Informed sources said the attempt would be made about 4:30 a.m. (EDT) when Explorer VI will be at the perigee or low point of its extremely elongated orbit, some 160 miles above Florida.

U.S. Steel President Recovering

BYANIS, Mass. (AP)—Walter F. Munford, head of the strike-ridden U.S. Steel Corp., is recovering from an abdominal wound which a district attorney said Thursday Munford suffered accidentally while putting away a kitchen knife.

Barnstable County Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis said Munford, 51, election to the reported $250,000 a year corporation presidency only last May, had been under medical care for fatigue and nervous exhaustion.

Dinis said Munford "apparently slipped on the highly polished kitchen floor and impaled himself on the knife he was carrying."

The district attorney said Munford was carrying kitchen utensils to the sink when the accident happened.

The wound was two to three inches deep, he said.

He said Mrs. Munford told him she entered the kitchen of their big summer home at Chatham, Cape Cod, Wednesday and found her husband "bleeding about waist-high in the abdomen."

Police showed newsmen a knife with a five-inch blade as the instrument which caused the injury. Dinis made no allusion to an earlier statement issued by Administrator Gerard A. Oulette of the Cape Cod Hospital.

Presents From Nikita

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was critical of the tight security maintained by Los Angeles police during his recent visit here.

But Thursday the man responsible for the security received a load of gifts from his critics.

Police Chief William H. Parker said Khrushchev sent him three bottles of vodka, an inlaid box, a book of colored photos of Moscow, caviar, a model of the first Soviet Sputnik and some toy figures.

Khrushchev invited Parker to visit Moscow. The chief says he isn't accepting the invitation.

Lawrence Raps Budget Cuts

Department Heads Rally Against GOP

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Lawrence rallied his department heads Thursday in a campaign against Senate Republicans' proposed 58 million dollars in cuts in his $1,865,500,000 budget.

They issued statements containing such phrases as "financial razzle-dazzle," "a serious blow," "fiscal jugglers," "unrealistic," "alarming and amazing," "deceit," in a concentrated publicity campaign against the GOP action Wednesday.

Dr. Charles H. Boehm, whose department of public instruction was hardest hit ($23,800,000), complained there were calculated deficits in cuts made in his department.

Public welfare was next hardest hit—$12,800,000—and Secretary Ruth G. Hortung said the cuts "are a blow to all the people in need in Pennsylvania." She warned that the 10-million-dollar cut in public assistance would mean a serious deficit long before the end of the biennium "since the department is obligated by law to make relief payments to those in need."

Mrs. Hortung said the steel strike already has increased public assistance costs by an unanticipated 8 million dollars.

Urban Renewal

Commerce Secretary William R. Davlin said the 9 million dollars cut from his industrial development and urban renewal requests "would mean a virtual shutdown of the slum clearance-urban renewal programs of Pennsylvania cities and a marked slow-up in the job-making, industrial development program."

He warned a large majority of renewal projects in Allentown, Bethlehem, Chester, Dauphin County, Delaware, Easton, Farrell, Fayette County, Franklin County, Harrisburg, Lancaster, Meadville, Monessen, New Kensington, Pittston, Philadelphia, Reading, Scranton, Somerset County, Turtle Creek, York and Pittsburgh will have to be indefinitely postponed or abandoned.

These communities, he said, already had been promised federal funds in the amount of over 47 million dollars. The federal aid is dependent upon matching funds from either the state or municipality. The state's request was for 10 millions. The Senate GOP cut it back to 3 millions.

William L. Batt Jr., secretary of labor and industry, said the 3 million dollars sliced from the occupational disease benefits was illusory. The administration's estimate of needs for this program was conservative, he said.

Farm Marketing

Agriculture Secretary William L. Henning said the state's farm marketing programs may be set back.

Mines Secretary Joseph Kennedy said he assumed the cuts in his budget would have to be applied to expenditures for extinguishing coal mine fires.

Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of forests and waters, said the $100,875 cut from the Port Erie improvements appropriation will retard that city's program to attract St. Lawrence Seaway shipping.

The GOP plan will come up before the full Senate next week, but the real fight is expected to develop behind closed doors in a House-Senate Conference Committee that will be appointed after final Senate action to iron out differences in the amounts approved by the two chambers. The Democratic-controlled House trimmed the budget a net 6 million dollars.

MARSHALLS CREEK — If President Roosevelt or Truman had received Nikita Khrushchev with a 21-gun salute, they would have been severely criticized, United States Rep. Francis E. Walter said last night.

The Democratic Congressman described the Soviet premier as a "gross, arrogant, and continuing breach of internationally guaranteed rights."

Farid Zeineddine, deputy foreign minister for the U.A.R., took the rostrum immediately in the Assembly hall to assert that Israel has no right to use the canal because 95 per cent of that nation belonged to the people of Palestine until it was "grabbed by Israel."

Israel Hurts Charge At Arab Republic

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Israel accused the United Arab Republic Thursday of threatening the rights of all maritime nations by refusing passage of Israeli cargoes and ships through the Suez Canal.

Golda Meir, the Israeli foreign minister, told the 82-nation General Assembly her country was not prepared to accept continued discrimination against Israeli shipping. She described the U.A.R. action as a "gross, arrogant, and continuing breach of internationally guaranteed rights."

Farid Zeineddine, deputy foreign minister for the U.A.R., took the rostrum immediately in the Assembly hall to assert that Israel has no right to use the canal because 95 per cent of that nation belonged to the people of Palestine until it was "grabbed by Israel."

Sets Stage

The exchange appeared to set the stage for bitter U.N. debate. Israel has been trying to line up as many of the maritime nations as possible in support of its stand.

Mrs. Meir noted that such shipping nations as the United States, Britain, Italy and Argentina had already referred in their policy speeches to the necessity of freedom of passage to the Suez Canal.

Mrs. Meir said that Israeli ships had been denied free passage and Israeli cargoes were impeded since 1948. She asserted the situation was aggravated further this year when the U.A.R. suddenly extended restrictions to include cargoes southbound to parts in Asia and Africa.

Encephalitis Death Toll At Seven

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The death toll presumed to come from an encephalitis outbreak in south Jersey rose to seven Thursday.

The State Health Department said seven deaths have been reported and another 10 cases are under surveillance.

It said preliminary information indicates at least some of the cases are encephalitis, though it will still be two days before any definite proof can be gotten from laboratory tests.

Surveillance

The department set up a surveillance center here to keep track of the situation, asking for reports from doctors of suspected cases.

The U.S. Public Health Service loaned New Jersey two physicians and a veterinarian to help probe possible encephalitis cases.

The department said eastern equine encephalitis is the particular strain of the virus suspected to have caused the deaths.

It said "this virus is recognized as being confined to marginal, second-growth woodland areas of the state."

Most of the cases have come from the shore area of southern New Jersey, where such growth conditions are prevalent.

Blue Law Ban

HARRISBURG (AP) — The U.S. Middle District Court has banned enforcement of 1959 changes in the state's Blue Law.

Pointing out that President Eisenhower welcomed Khrushchev as "Mr. Chairman," Walter went on to criticize the president for treating the Russian as the duly elected head of a constitutional government.

"Khrushchev came here only to use the United States as a sounding board for propaganda purposes," he said.

Whereas Truman carried out the Truman Doctrine which saved Greece and Turkey from Communism, the Eisenhower administration asked the Russians to come on over and see our leaders and talk, he said.

"Talk about what? Berlin? A solemn obligation Russia has entered into?"

Monroe County Sheriff Jacob Altomose introduced Walters to about 90 members of the Democratic party.

Sitting at the speaker's table besides Walter and Altomose were Rep. and Mrs. Van D. Yetter, County Treasurer and Mrs. J. Nelson Westbrook, Mrs. Altomose and Rev. and Mrs. William F. Wunder. Rev. Wunder gave the invocation and benediction.

Altomose also introduced Mrs. Florence Warner, county associate judge, and John Brislun, county Democratic chairman.

STRONG POINT — Emphasizing his point, United States Rep. Francis E. ## Soviet Statement Accuses Reuther Of Distorting Facts

MOSCOW (AP) — Walter P. Reuther was accused in a Soviet statement Thursday of spreading absolutely fantastic inventions in telling of exchanges at the San Francisco meeting of AFL-CIO representatives with Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The president of the United Auto Workers grossly distorted Khrushchev's statements at a news conference concerning the meeting, said the statement, attributed to the Soviet press group with the Premier and distributed by the Tass news agency.

It accused Reuther of ascribing to Khrushchev "that he had never said."

Moreover, the statement charged the text of a summary made public by the American labor leaders and published Tuesday by the New York Times was "absolutely distorted in its contents."

"They apparently feared to inform the readers of the Soviet Premier's actual pronouncements," the Soviet statement said.

Reporters Barred

American reporters were barred from the meeting of Khrushchev with the labor leaders, a conversation of more than three hours which the Soviet statement said "became very heated at times."

For the avowed purpose of re-establishing the truth, the lengthy statement alternated paraphrase and direct quotations.

At one point it introduced a racial note:

"Khrushchev noted that present during the conversation was Mr. Weaver, a Negro, who tried to put a question several times, but Reuther stubbornly did not wish to notice him."

"You are conducting this talk undemocratically," Khrushchev said. "Let the black man speak. Is it not a disgrace that you have places that are out of bounds for Negroes?"

The reference was to George P. Weaver, an aide to President James B. Carey of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers.

Blast Ruins U.S. Moon Rocket Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A towering Atlas-Able moon rocket exploded during an engine test Thursday, postponing a U.S. effort to even the moon score with the Russians and prompting a study of other space probes planned this fall.

The 100-foot rocket, scheduled to carry a 375-pound satellite to a moon orbit early next month, was destroyed when tons of exploding fuel ripped through the first two of its four stages.

The small third and fourth stages were not on the missile. The Air Force announced the explosion occurred during a static test of the missile and that it is investigating the cause. A static firing checks all operating functions of the engines, including ignition, while the rocket is locked on its pad.

U. S. Weapon

The United States was counting on the Atlas-Able to better the spectacular Soviet moon strike of Sept. 13.

It was scheduled for launching during the period of Oct. 3-6, when the moon will be at its closest point to the earth, about 221,000 miles.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said in Washington that its unlikely another rocket can be readied in time for an October launch.

NASA announced that as a result of the blowup, it will make a complete study of space probes tentatively set for this fall. This would include an attempt to send a probe toward Venus in November.

Earlier, a NASA spokesman said the entire American space program would come under scrutiny, but this was later toned down to include only the fall launches.

The Atlas-Able was the third U.S. space vehicle to fail during Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to this country.

Hurricane Gracie On Trip North

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Gracie backed and filled Thursday over an erratic course northeast of the Bahamas, and nearly lost her hurricane rating.

But the U. S. Weather Bureau's 5 p. m. advisory still referred to the season's seventh tropical storm as a hurricane.

Forecasters said since it was only estimated that Gracie's peak winds still were at the hurricane minimum 75-mile force, she was getting the benefit of a doubt.

Reports from hurricane-hunter planes indicated Gracie edged northeastward during the day and then took a northerly track from a point 280 miles east of Fort Pierce on the Florida east coast.

Davis said it looked as if Gracie would press on northward at five miles per hour until today at least.

"This path will keep the storm about parallel to and well off the Florida east coast," Davis said.

Talks With Eisenhower Begin Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev swept from Pittsburgh factory to embassy row cocktail party Thursday with the same boundless enthusiasm that propelled him through Hollywood film studios and Iowa corn fields.

Today the Soviet Premier gets down to the hard-core reason for his trip to this country. He and President Eisenhower will retire to the seclusion of the President's Maryland mountain retreat, Camp David, for a round of intensive talks on cold war problems.

During a tour of Pittsburgh Thursday, the Communist leader announced he was "having a wonderful time" and at a glittering diplomatic reception in the Soviet Embassy Thursday night he said he was in fine health and had energy in reserve.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who renewed his acquaintance with Khrushchev at the embassy party, told newsmen the Premier "seems to be very pleased about his trip and in a jovial and friendly mood."

U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who acted as Khrushchev's official escort on his flying trip to the West Coast and back, said "I think he has gotten some extremely vivid pictures of the United States."

"Favorable?" a reporter asked.

"Oh, yes," said Lodge.

Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court, who has traveled extensively in and around the Soviet Union, put it this way:

"I think he was impressed with things he has seen in America. I got the impression he would like to make another visit here."

Khrushchev, who drew Nixon aside for a private chat in an anteroom during the reception, left the embassy with the pronunciation relayed through an interpreter, that the party was "a very good one, I think."

Here at the affair, which featured bowls of caviar, smoked sturgeon and other delicacies flown in from the Soviet Union, was the Soviet ambassador, Mikhail A. Menshikov.

Guests of Honor

Khrushchev and his wife were the guests of honor. They stood in the receiving line at the top of a spiral staircase.

They arrived at the embassy about half an hour after checking back into Blair House, the government's guest mansion across the street from the White House.

The street crowds that watched the Kremlin boss on his return to Washington seemed a little friendlier, or less aloof, than they were on the day he first arrived from Moscow. Security details were a little less overwhelming.

Even so Khrushchev flabbergasted his guards when he strode out of the embassy after the reception and elected to walk a block and a half to the Sheraton-Carlton Hotel, where he had a dinner date with a group of business men.

Khrushchev ended his day at 10:41 p.m., returning to Blair House from the dinner in his honor.

Khrushchev drove the four blocks from the hotel where the dinner was given to the presidential guest house with the full traffic of motorcade and security protection. That was in contrast to his trip from the embassy to the hotel where the dinner was held.

Leaving his motorcade standing at the embassy, Khrushchev walked briskly down 16th street, waving genially to startled pedestrians.

Khrushchev, wearing a light gray suit and carrying a blue-gray felt hat, was more than an hour behind schedule after a late leave-taking in Pittsburgh, where he spent one of the happier days of his cross-country tour.

For once, being late, the Soviet Premier made no speech on arriving at the airport. He stepped out of the U.S. Air Force jet transport that bore him from Pittsburgh to Andrews Air Force Base in 45 minutes and walked directly to the bubbletop White House limousine waiting for him.

Khrushchev, looking tired but happy, waved amiably to newsmen and remarked to one Air Force crewman: "You fly like an eagle."

In contrast to the ceremonious welcome he received at the same airport 10 days ago on his arrival from Moscow, Khrushchev was greeted more or less perfunctorily by Americans.

120 Area Teachers At In-Service Training Program

CANADENSIS — Over 120 teachers from Pocono Mountains and Pleasant Valley Jointures and Eldred Township observed teaching demonstrations at Barrett Township School and discussed future academic programs yesterday.

The teachers tried to formulate programs for present use in the jointures and for future use when new jointure high schools will be operating at Brodheadville and Swiftwater.

Different science programs for poor, average academic and technical students were evaluated. Another topic of interest was the correlation of grammar instruction with theme writing in the schools.

Mrs. Helen Fuesy and Mrs. Rosalind Mulcahy, both consultants for Silver Burdett Publishing Co., taught demonstration lessons in elementary arithmetic to the second and fifth grades at the Barrett School.

Dunlap greeted the 87 Pocono Mountains and approximately 40 Pleasant Valley and Eldred teachers in the absence of County Superintendent of Schools John C. Litts.

About eight Eldred Township teachers showed up unexpectedly for the in-training sessions. Eldred recently withdrew from the Pleasant Valley Jointure.

PETITIONS CONTAINING about 700 names of taxpayers and property owners will be presented to the next meeting of East Stroudsburg Borough Council protesting the immediate construction of a borough sewer system.

These numbers were revealed last night at a meeting of the East Stroudsburg Taxpayers Assn. held at the home of Jack Hine, 202 Smith St.

Representatives of each of the borough's six wards will attend the council meeting, and a spokesman will present the case of the petitioners to the council.

It was explained at last night's meeting that the group is not fully opposed to the building of the sewer system, but they are opposed to its being constructed at the present time.

The group feels that economically the taxpayers cannot afford the system.

Research Unit To Meet At Signal Depot

TOBYHANNA — One of the nation's top research groups will gather here at the Army Signal Corps Depot for a two-day conference, beginning Monday.

It will be the 29th quarterly meeting of the Army Signal Corps Research and Development Advisory Council.

Organized in December, 1951, the council is composed of outstanding scientists from industry and the academic world.

Sewers Good Investment For Every Community

The fact that East Stroudsburg missed a golden opportunity to build a complete sewer system at a nominal cost in 1938 should serve as a good object lesson as the community grapples anew with the same problem.

Rational thinking on the part of all citizens and officials must rule every action that is taken, every word that is spoken from now until the East Stroudsburg Borough Authority decides whether construction of a sewer system is feasible at this time.

As the authority stressed yesterday in a statement published in The Daily Record, no one can say at present whether the cost of building sewer lines and a treatment works is within the ability of the community to pay.

Considerable confusion has resulted from the release of estimated costs of construction and of a bond issue to finance the project.

Neither the authority nor anyone else is in a position to say definitely that these estimates are high or low. And nobody will know what the overall costs will be until (1) the contractors submit their bids on building the system and (2) the authority learns what interest rates it must pay to float the bonds.

Until that time arrives, we think the citizens of East Stroudsburg should maintain their confidence in the authority and help, where possible, to find a workable solution to this pressing problem.

The authority members are not strangers who have come into the borough to sell it a bill of goods. They are, first of all, property owners in East Stroudsburg. And all are serving without pay, attempting in the best way they know to resolve a critical situation that has plagued the community for many years.

In our conversations with these men, we gather that the decision on whether to build or not to build will be made only after careful thought in which the people will have a chance to join. Surely, the decision will not be made overnight.

The authority is striving to meet an urgent need. Anyone who says the need does not exist is ignoring the facts, what with raw sewage emptying into storm sewers and street gutters, cesspools and septic tanks overflowing into adjoining properties and the whole mess creating a menace to the health and welfare of everyone in the community.

There has been much hue and cry about getting new industries to locate in the area. We certainly can't expect to attract industries or ever hope to build a better town unless we have sewers.

When manufacturers survey a community as the possible site for a new plant, the first physical aspect considered is the availability of an adequate water supply.

Next highest priority is given to sewage facilities, then homes, schools, churches, recreation, etc. It's obvious, therefore, that sewers play an important role in providing additional jobs for the people, in bringing about progress in the community and, consequently, in maintaining property values.

This entire area appears to be on the verge of a business boom, judging from the interest shown by manufacturers who are anxious to locate plants close by one of the major highways being planned.

East Stroudsburg, like other communities, must be prepared to meet the upswing. If it fails, it will go backward instead of forward. It's that simple.

We urge each and every citizen of East Stroudsburg to face up to the facts as they exist, give honest thought to the many points involved and agree to make sacrifices, if necessary, for their own future welfare and that of the entire community. Sewers cost money, to be sure, but they are well worthwhile and in many ways pay for themselves.

The Pennsylvania Story

Back To Normalcy

By Mason Demmon
Harrisburg — A semblance of normalcy has returned to Capitol Hill — the normalcy being the fact that vacations on the part of Capitol Hill workers are over and done with.

By Labor Day most of the vacationing Hill force ordinarily has returned — the balance filter in, complete with summer tans, by the second or third week of September.

Among those sidelined in part during the past summer through were department heads — and the Governor himself. . . The reason: The Legislature was (and still is) in session. . . Front office orders were to "stick close" in case of need.

Several took long week ends but none of the key cabinet members ventured forth for any of the usual month-long vacations common in the past. Mr. Lawrence throughout the summer months stuck close to Capitol Hill, or at least was within easy shouting distance and quick contact if need be, with one or two brief side ventures. . . The Legislature proved to be the restraining hand.

New Record-Breaker — The 1959 session of Pennsylvania's Legislature may not set a record insofar as being the longest in the history of the state — but it is bound to wind up as the second longest of record.

Reason: Longest session was the lopsidedly bitter partisan 1955-56 session which ran a total of 168 legislative days (17 calendar months). . . Next longest session was that of 1951 which straggled along for 108 legislative days. . . As of the end of this week the present 1959 session has clocked up 91 days.

A few more legislative days — and indications are now that the session will run well into October — seventeen to be exact, and the 1951 holder of a second place will have lost its grip to the current runoff. Insofar as new bills introduced are concerned, the approximately 3600 legislative gems thrown in the legislative hopper so far, more than 350 above the 1955-56 record-breaker!

"By Act Of Legislature" — It required an act of Legislature to do it—and if Governor Lawrence gives his final OK it will be finally and firmly official — but Pennsylvania at long last may have an "official animal."

Legislation has cleared both the House and Senate designating the White-tail Deer as the official state animal.

The Keystone State already has an official tree (Hemlock) an official flower (Mountain Laurel), and an official bird (Ruffed Grouse) — but it has long languished in the animal field.

Quipped one lawmaker at the time of passage of the Whitetail Deer legislation: "Now if we only don't shoot them to extinction!"

Up Periscope! — Ofttimes it isn't as bad as it looks. . . For example, on the Daily Register maintained by the State Auditor General, covering selected invoices forwarded to his department for processing, these items were listed the other day for — of all departments — the State Department of Justice:

"Wheat — $5435; white oats — $306.59; coffee — $34,044.23; brass wood screws — $385; oak lumber, $1420.50."

What would the Department of Justice be doing with all this junk? . . . Actually the department itself won't use it. . . A subdivision of the department — Prison Industries — uses the material daily in providing supplies, services and products for state-owned institutions throughout the state — via prison labor!

A Little Politics

The Khrushchev interlude cannot affect the Presidential election which is now in the making. The only candidate for the Republican nomination, at the moment, is the Vice President, Richard Nixon.

Testing his strength, like a boy about to go for a swim, putting his feet in the water to see how it feels, is Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

He apparently wants to be President but does not want to risk defeat either for the nomination or at the election. There are no sure things in American politics and timid souls do not last long in this game.

It is unusual that no other possibilities present themselves among the Republicans and truth to tell, there do not seem to be any others. Maybe, someone will emerge between now and the summer of 1960, but it is not likely.

Time's a-passing and the Vice President, Richard Nixon, has been doing well in establishing in the public mind the fact that if he had to take the Presidency, he could handle the job. That is an extraordinarily good start for a candidate.

The Democrats started with a galaxy of candidates but apparently they are gradually eliminating themselves. The Democrats also have candidates for Vice President and Secretary of State which is a most unusual procedure.

Adlai Stevenson, already twice defeated, was building a candidacy. Much depended upon what happened in the New York City Democratic primaries, which Carmine DeSapio won, although not as readily as he might have liked.

The fact is that the reformers, led by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Herbert Lehman and Thomas Finletter, spent considerable money and energy attempting to defeat Carmine DeSapio, which they failed to do. Their hope now is that they can use the argument that he did not win as magnificently as he might have. That, of course, is meaningless.

Chicago — Instead of getting into politics, business, for its own good, ought to stay out of politics. I am profoundly convinced that the present campaign to inject business — a business — into politics is ill-conceived, extremely dangerous, a violation of our sound democratic system, and even worse — perhaps illegal.

The corporation is not a political entity; it is a legal entity. It was never intended to be a political entity. It is wholly different from the human entity which is the foundation stone of our Declaration of Independence and our Constitution.

I should like to raise several questions which should be answered by those who would involve business institutions in politics. Under the law it is well established that a corporation cannot do indirectly what it is forbidden to do directly. How then, being forbidden to contribute money to political campaigns, can a corporation legally permit its employees, on company time and paid by company funds, to act as poll watchers, vote-getters, precinct captains and such?

If business gets into politics as business, how can it prevent the development of those very factions which Madison described in the great 10th Federalist Paper — "a landed interest, a manufacturing interest, a moneyed interest, with many lesser interests" — and who would settle the policy contests when all of these interests began their inevitable struggles for supremacy in government?

If business organization enters the political arena, who chooses the party which will be favored with its support? The direction of the sharehold-ers, the chairman of the board? Where does it find the authority to use share-holders' money for such purposes?

Will not the employees who belong to different organizations, unions, or political parties develop a profound antagonism for the corporation's political activities? Seeing the officers use company funds and time for political action, will they not sharpen their own demands and opposition?

What will be the effect upon the customers of the corporation, who again are of many political persuasions and interests — who are property owners and renters, union members and while-collar workers, protagonists or antagonists of a myriad of contesting causes and ideas?

The American people will, with comparative equanimity, accept bigness in our corporations. But you try to tell them that what is good for General Motors is good for the country, and you have a real row on your hands!

I agree completely with the statement of industrialist Thomas J. Watson, who said: "All great questions of politics and economics come down in the last analysis to the decisions and actions of individual men and women. They are questions of human relations, and we ought always to think about them in terms of men and women — the individual human beings who are involved in them."

A corporation is a consensus of a great many personalities, divided into categories of importance, directed from the top by persons who have prejudices as violent as you will meet anywhere.

Set are the ones who have set out to provoke, to stimulate, and to get these campaigns going to put business into politics. They are not men without judgment; they have a lot of judgment, and they know exactly what they are after.

But they have absolutely no right to use corporation machinery, corporation money, and corporation personnel to inflame their views upon other individuals or upon the community.

Under our system, the one time when man is absolutely free is when he enters the polling booth; but he is not free if he is told by the corporation which employs him to go out and ring doorbells, make speeches, distribute literature and propaganda, and the corporation views. There are ample means of getting the business viewpoint across, without entangling business, as business, in politics.

If my views seem non-conformist, let me relate what Senator Thurston B. Morton, Republican National Chairman said recently in a panel discussion in which I took part. These are his words:

"It would be disastrous for the nation and for the party itself if any single economic group were to win unchallenged control of the Republican Party. It would be equally disastrous if such a situation developed within the Democratic Party."

Jim Riley Says:

Business Vs. Politics

Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott are the authors of "Business Vs. Politics," a book published by the American Business and Political Action Committee.

By Arnold H. Marenth President, Marenth Automotive Products Co., board chairman, Allied Paper Corp., director, Nat. Retail P. director, Saturday Review Publishing Co.

I should like to raise several questions which should be answered by those who would involve business institutions in politics. Under the law it is well established that a corporation cannot do indirectly what it is forbidden to do directly. How then, being forbidden to contribute money to political campaigns, can a corporation legally permit its employees, on company time and paid by company funds, to act as poll watchers, vote-getters, precinct captains and such?

If business gets into politics as business, how can it prevent the development of those very factions which Madison described in the great 10th Federalist Paper — "a landed interest, a manufacturing interest, a moneyed interest, with many lesser interests" — and who would settle the policy contests when all of these interests began their inevitable struggles for supremacy in government?

If business organization enters the political arena, who chooses the party which will be favored with its support? The direction of the sharehold-ers, the chairman of the board? Where does it find the authority to use share-holders' money for such purposes?

Will not the employees who belong to different organizations, unions, or political parties develop a profound antagonism for the corporation's political activities? Seeing the officers use company funds and time for political action, will they not sharpen their own demands and opposition?

What will be the effect upon the customers of the corporation, who again are of many political persuasions and interests — who are property owners and renters, union members and while-collar workers, protagonists or antagonists of a myriad of contesting causes and ideas?

The American people will, with comparative equanimity, accept bigness in our corporations. But you try to tell them that what is good for General Motors is good for the country, and you have a real row on your hands!

I agree completely with the statement of industrialist Thomas J. Watson, who said: "All great questions of politics and economics come down in the last analysis to the decisions and actions of individual men and women. They are questions of human relations, and we ought always to think about them in terms of men and women — the individual human beings who are involved in them."

A corporation is a consensus of a great many personalities, divided into categories of importance, directed from the top by persons who have prejudices as violent as you will meet anywhere.

Set are the ones who have set out to provoke, to stimulate, and to get these campaigns going to put business into politics. They are not men without judgment; they have a lot of judgment, and they know exactly what they are after.

But they have absolutely no right to use corporation machinery, corporation money, and corporation personnel to inflame their views upon other individuals or upon the community.

Under our system, the one time when man is absolutely free is when he enters the polling booth; but he is not free if he is told by the corporation which employs him to go out and ring doorbells, make speeches, distribute literature and propaganda, and the corporation views. There are ample means of getting the business viewpoint across, without entangling business, as business, in politics.

If my views seem non-conformist, let me relate what Senator Thurston B. Morton, Republican National Chairman said recently in a panel discussion in which I took part. These are his words:

"It would be disastrous for the nation and for the party itself if any single economic group were to win unchallenged control of the Republican Party. It would be equally disastrous if such a situation developed within the Democratic Party."

change the policies to make me the beneficiary, he said if anything happened to him his parents would give me the money. In your opinion is this enough protection for me?

WIFE
Dear Wife: I wouldn't take anything for granted. You, your husband and the insurance agent should sit down and talk this matter over frankly. A wife with two children is entitled to more security in the event of her husband's death than you appear to have.

Dear Abby: I have been going into this shoe store for quite a while, and I became interested in a salesman who works there. He seems interested in me too. We always have a few laughs. He asked my girlfriend (behind my back) how old I was. She lied for me and said I was 19. I am only 17. He looks about 21 or 22, but I am not sure.

How can I find out how old he is without asking him? How can I get him to ask me out?
"SIX TRIPLE A"

Dear D. D. F.: The only women in America who are "trained" to wash feet, dress, undress and feed men, are employed in homes for the aged and in institutions for the physically handicapped and mentally ill. If you want this kind of service, stay where you can get it on your own terms.

Dear Abby: My husband has his insurance policies made out with his mother and father as beneficiaries. We have been married eight years and have two children.

When I mentioned to him that I thought he should enter college — Miss Irene Heller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Heller and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moses LaBar, enters Bergen Jrs. College, Teaneck, N.J. She is a graduate of SHS.

Party — Miss Esdie Kerber entertained members of her piano class at a party. She was assisted in serving by Miss Betty Voss and Misses Mary and Edna Dodd.

Baseball — The Strouds baseball team won from Barrett Twp. 8 to 5.

Posters, depicting a mailman in a new postal vehicle called the mailster, will be displayed in post offices throughout the country. Colorful streamers, proclaiming that "Letters are fun to send and exciting to receive", will be displayed on postal vehicles.

Lawrence Signs Bill For Loads
THE operator of a motor vehicle carrying an oversize or overweight load no longer needs to travel long distances to obtain a permit to transport the load over a public highway.

Gov. David Lawrence this week signed a House bill providing for the issuance of the permits within each county. In Monroe County, the permits may be obtained at the State Highway Office along Route 611 north of Stroudsburg.

Heretofore, the nearest place a driver could purchase a permit was at the Highway Department's district office in Allentown. The cost is five dollars for each permit, plus two cents a ton per mile.

House trailers over 35 feet long and eight feet wide require a permit as do tractor-trailers over 30 feet long.

Sponsor of the House bill was Rep. Van D. Yetter (D-Monroe). It was co-sponsored by Reps. J. Russell Eshbach (R-Pike), Denison and Prendergast.

NEWFOUNDLAND — Reorganization of the Southern Wayne Joint School Board took place at the September meeting of the unit.

A total enrollment of 399 pupils was reported by Supervising Principal Leland Cramer.

The officers elected to serve the Southern Wayne Joint Schools when the jointure with Lehigh Township was effected earlier this Summer were re-elected to serve the three-township district until the regular election.

They were: Homer Gilpin, president; H. D. Lee, vice president; L. G. Grimm, secretary; J. Robert Burdick, treasurer.

A break-down of enrollment figures by Cramer showed the following number of students in each grade: first, 43; second, 29; third, 34; fourth, 35; fifth, 35; sixth, 32; seventh, 31; eighth, 32; ninth, 29; tenth, 28; 11th, 26; 12th, 23; special class, 12.

He noted that there are 134 students from Greene Township; 131 from Dreher; 115 from Sterling; five from Lehigh; and two from Madison.

Teacher's Aide
Mrs. Ethel Wohlfart, Newfoundland, was hired as a teacher's aide to assist Mrs. Marion Carlton, LaAnna, in the first grade. Cramer noted that the first grade was 43 students, pointing out that the ideal unit is 30.

The treasurer reported a balance of $14,725.52, and bills totaling nearly $4,000 were ordered paid.

It was reported by L. G. Grimm that the board's application for approval of proposed alterations for the elimination of fire hazards had been received from the Department of Public Instruction, and also that the board had received a time extension for carrying out the plans until next Summer to avoid interference with the regular school program.

An invitation from the president of the Pennsylvania State School Directors Assn. to the annual banquet scheduled for 6:15 p.m. on Oct. 16 at the Penn-Sheraton Hotel, Pittsburgh, was read. Gilpin reported that he will attend the banquet, and will also attend sessions of the annual convention on Oct. 15, 16 and 17.

A committee including L. G. Grimm, Claude Smith and H. B. Hutchins was named to investigate the need for repairs to the playground area behind the gymnasium. The Bears had requested that the board utilize the bleachers if it were to the school's advantage.

A request by the class of Mrs. Katherine Miller for permission to make a trip to Philadelphia to visit the libraries of the University of Pennsylvania and Drexel Institute of Technology was granted by the board. The one-day trip is tentatively set for Oct. 9.

Attending the meeting were Gilpin, Arthur Rigby, Lee, Burdick, William Evans, Grimm, Fred Hart, Claude Smith, H. B. Hutchins, Fred McLain and Leland Cramer.

Adventists To Launch New Program

A "FOREIGN AID" program to prepare more national workers to assume greater leadership in a rapidly expanding mission economy will be launched by members of the Stroudsburg Seventh-day Adventist Sabbath School tomorrow at 10:45 a. m.

Funds will be contributed in a special offering to aid in expanding missionary facilities in Indonesia and to build a junior high school in Japan. Funds contributed by the local members will be pooled with other funds raised for the same purpose by Adventists throughout the United States and Canada.

Indonesia Seminary
The Seminary in Indonesia is situated near Bandung, Java, and serves a church membership of 17,000. New classrooms and an administration building are to be erected with part of the "foreign aid" funds. An entire junior high school plant will be built near Japan Missionary College on the outskirts of Tokyo.

These educational institutions will train young people in the far East to assume mission leadership in an increasing number of areas.

Adventists have more than 100,000 members in the Far East where the funds are going, extending from Japan and Korea to Indonesia and New Guinea.

A special program will be given at the local Sabbath School to portray the needs of this mission field, according to Mrs. Charles Loney, the superintendent.

Dr. Raker Speaks To Rotary Club

DR. Conrad Raker, superintendent of Good Shepherd Home, Allentown, was the speaker at yesterday's meeting of the Rotary Club in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

He described the home which is a residence for crippled children and aged. It is sponsored by the Lutheran Church but is open to all races, creeds and nationalities.

Dr. Raker has served as superintendent of the home for 18 years, succeeding his father, Dr. John Raker, who founded the institution 51 years ago.

Rev. Charles Ruloff, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, was program chairman and introduced the speaker.

Just Between Us

—by Bobby Westbrook

"Convince a fool against his will, he's of the same opinion still" is a crude way of putting a common truth: the futility of arguing politics, religion or anything else which really matters deeply.

The principle of religious freedom obviously matters a great deal to George Levin according to his letter in response to my column on Wednesday.

"Dear Mrs. Westbrook: "Because it seems my previous letter was not sufficiently clear, I make another effort. I am addressing this to you personally, but I am sure you will accord me the courtesy of making it public.

"It is not my intention to debate which documents contain the word "God" and which do not. That is a matter easily determined by reference to the documents. What I wish to make clear is that the absence of the word from the Constitution (the only document mentioned which is law) is no accident.

"This does not mean that the Founding Fathers were godless men, or that this is a godless country. What it does mean is that the Founding Fathers remembered the Pilgrims and the Huguenots and all people persecuted for religion's sake, and resolved that no man's religion shall be imposed on any other man in this country with public sanction.

"I do not know what was in the mind of the Schenck boys as he read the Koran in class. I do know that there are people who consider the Koran, or the Rig Veda, or the writings of Confucius, or some other book, to be just as divinely inspired (or more so) as the Bible, and to whom the reading of the Bible may be repugnant. They are entitled, by law and by all canons of moral decency, to be spared that reading.

"Let us, then, put things in correct perspective, stop trying to impose our beliefs on those who do not share them, and devote ourselves to the proper upbringing of our children, in and out of school, in the spirit of true brotherhood and respect for each other. There is more than enough time now devoted to comic books, juke boxes, movies, and TV, to provide for that Bible reading outside the school-room.

Very truly yours,
George Levin"

It also matters a great deal to me. I am thoroughly in accord with the separation of church and state. I understand his viewpoint, admit the logic of his reasoning — and completely disagree with his conclusion.

Personally, I have no fear that daily Bible reading or the Lord's Prayer could undermine a child's belief in the religion of his parents, if any. There is the rub: the fact that many parents have no religion at all, no moral law except that of tooth and claw.

A daily reading of the Bible (and, if you wish, the Koran and Confucius, and the Rig Veda, which I understand is a hymn book of the Hindus) in my opinion would harm no child, but give all of them a glimpse of man's eternal search for perfection.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday night, at the church with all women of the church invited.

Advance word has it that Harold Albert will be dressed as a clown, but will NOT be the clown in the front window with the big plastic bag of peanuts which is the hub of all the excitement. Customers are invited to guess the number of peanuts in that bag, register the guesses inside in a box provided for the purpose, and possibly win one of hundreds of beautiful merchandise prizes. Those prizes are gorgeous. Some of them are on display in the window ... others (sized things ... such as sweaters, dresses, Life Stride Shoes, etc.) are displayed on a table in our credit office, and will be awarded via announcements made over our store's amplifying system during the two days. Peanut guessing closes at 4:30 Saturday.

Probably the most coveted of all the prizes (totaling 1500.00 in value) is the 1/2 karat unset diamond mounted against black velvet and spotlighted in our millinery window. It is a lovely thing, and one every girl would be proud to own. That's why we urge all of you to register your name and address at the store, right up until five minutes of five Saturday afternoon. At five o'clock the winner will be announced. It's FREE, naturally ... ABSOLUTELY FREE!

Free too is our breakfast broadcast this morning. We will be on the air from 9:30 until 10 direct from our Wyckoff Tea Room, and all of you are invited to come! BE SURE TO WEAR A MAD HAT ... something unusual, humorous, or outstandingly beautiful. Tom Waring will be the judge. And sometime Saturday our judges of costuming will make the rounds. They are Joe Whalen, WVPO program director; Jim Riley, editor of The Daily Record, and Les Carlton, one of the Record's fine photographers.

As I said before, there are women who have problems today about their costumes. They range from Pearl Walters, our pretty Women's Days president, to me, Pearl, as head of our cosmetic department, is coming as a mint green powder puff—a delightful idea made possible by stitching together two of the wondrously furry bedroom rugs sold in Walter Wyckoff's department. I can just imagine her coming in from the country in THAT get up! On the other hand, I can't imagine her being sewed into this regalia at the store unless she arrives mighty early.

As for me ... I intend to dress at home. Being a lady of many "convictions," I'm coming as a jail bird. SOOO ... if you look out of your window this morning and see someone go past in rumpled, weary gray, trailing a ball and chain, LOOK AGAIN ... but for heaven's sake, DON'T SHOOT.

"We only sell the First Bite"

East Stroudsburg Teachers takes the cover off its "new football look" for public consumption tomorrow night at Gordon Giffels Field. The Warriors unveiling is against as tough a foe as any college would care to spread its wings in a home inaugural. Energetic coach Jack Gregory and just as durable director of athletics Dr. George Ockershausen have worked side by side to give local football an interesting ball club and a chance to see a "Hill" eleven in action.

From the scheduling standpoint, Ockershausen has moved forward with two night games this year for the Warriors. This is not exactly new as ESSTC played under the lights back in the late forties. However, Ockershausen hopes this year's two-game offering will jet to three in the very near future.

Get the community's interest in ESSTC spores is the theme up on the Hill these days. And specially get the fans from downtown going through the turnstiles during the home football season is the present motto.

Football is the one sport which takes on the heaviest expenses with uniforms and etc., taking up the big load on the debit side. Thus to maintain an even break, the treasury has to be enriched two-fold to make the sport pay for itself.

This is what Ockershausen has his sights on when he turned to night games as a method to bring in more cash customers at the gate.

Gregory's job is to put a representative team on the field. One which, even in losing, will give a good exhibition, enough to get returns at later games.

From the start Gregory has shown efficiency in this field, changing offenses and installing new spirit in the entire Warrior grid setup.

His wide-open tactics is bound to thrill even the uneducated football fan. Gregory, looking to the future, hopes to build up a Warrior following unparalleled in ESSTC grid history. However he knows he has to wet the fans' appetites with good football before his type of offense really takes hold.

Jack doesn't expect to set the world on fire in the won and lost department this year. But in the future he believes the "Hill" teams will be able to battle the best in the small college ranks.

Tomorrow night at Giffels, Gregory gets his first real test. Ithaca invades Stroudsburg with its best team in the school's history. Last year they compiled a 6-1 record and have back from that eleven practically everyone, including a passer who throws at a .700 percentage clip in every game.

Ithaca's Bob Ryan, a six-footer, has been tabbed the class of the East in aerial circles. Last year he tossed seven TD passes and hurled 23 for 46 for 380 yards for the year.

Another Ithaca phenom is a slim speedster by the name of Dick Carmean. The senior halfback scored nine six-pointers in '58 and is called the Mr. Outside of the New Yorkers squad. He also is a great pass receiver, nabbing eight last season.

The Empire States blasted Benny Friedman's Brand-lee team 58-6 last week, indicating they are picking up where they left off in 1958.

ESSTC and Gregory will have their hands full starting at 8 p.m. tomorrow. But we know that the Warriors will lift the home lid off to the best of their ability. First to show the community that they have a pretty fair football team, and second, to up the gate receipts the next time they show before the home folks.

Stethoscopic Grid Picks

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — With baseball fever boiling hot and pulses pounding, it's not easy this week to catch the heart-beat of the nation's gridiron.

Here's a stethoscopic try:

Texas Christian 20, Louisiana State 17: TCU's big line throttles Billy Cannon and pulls off upset of nation's No. 1 team.

Oklahoma 20, Northwestern 14: The Sooners' Prentice Gault out-powers the Wildcats' Ron Burton on the ground.

Army 25, Boston College 7: The lonesome end's even more lonesome without Coach Earl Blaik and Pete Dawkins, but he's around.

Syracuse 14, Kansas 7: The loss of Bob Thomas cuts Syracuse's effectiveness, but the Orange continues to pack a punch.

Southern Methodist 18, Pittsburgh 13: This could be the best Southern Cal team in the past five years.

Michigan State 21, Texas A&M 8: The Spartans bounce back from their 28-0 losing streak; the

Braves Choice To Capture NL Pennant

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE'S champion Braves, back home for their final three games against the last place Philadelphia Phillies, Friday were rated 5-8 favorites to win the sizzling National League race.

The home park edge and an extra day of rest for the cripples were some of the factor that made the Braves the favorites over the and the reeling, all but dead San Francisco Giants.

Under the odds posted by Broadway bookmakers, if you liked the Braves to win their third straight pennant, you put up $8 to win $5. It's the other way around (put up $5 to win $8) if you like the chances of the Dodgers, who are tied for first with Milwaukee.

The Giants, trailing the co-leaders by two games with three left to play and losers of five straight, were all but written off at 30-1 odds. (Las Vegas odds quoted the Braves at 5-8 and the Dodgers at 6-5).

Day Off
All of the major league clubs had Thursday off. This gave the cripples a chance to heal and all players another 24 hours to feel the mounting pressure of the pulse-pounding pennant race.

In one respect, the Dodgers, who wind up their thrilling comeback with three games against the Cubs at Wrigley Field, have one advantage. They take on the Cubs in the afternoon (2 p. m.), EST Friday, while the Braves face the Phils at night (8 p. m., EST).

If the Dodgers and Don Drysdale (17-13) can beat the Cubs and Glen Hobbie (16-13), the heat will be blazing on the Braves in the evening. It will be fifty-five Low Burdette (21-15) vs. young Don Cardwell (9-10) at County Stadium.

The Giants close out their final three contests against the Cards at St. Louis. In the opener Friday night (8 p. m., EST), San Francisco's workhorse, Sam Jones (20-15) will oppose Vinegar Bend Mizell (13-9).

A tie between Milwaukee and Los Angeles would force a best-of-three playoff with the first game at Milwaukee, Sept. 28, and the next two at Los Angeles, Sept. 29 and 30. Then the Sox, who clinched the American League flag Tuesday, would be host in the Series opener on Thursday.

Milwaukee Hopes Logan, Bruton Set

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Idle Milwaukee hoped for the return of shortstop Johnny Logan and center fielder Bill Bruton for Friday night's vital series opener with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Tied for the National League lead with Los Angeles, the Braves spent most of the open date at the ball park. They held a long session to split up their World Series swag, if and when. Of course, no information was released, pending notice from Commissioner Ford Frick's office.

Manager Fred Haney reconfirmed Low Burdette (21-14) as his starting pitcher for the opener with the last-place Phillies. He said Warren Spahn (20-15) will follow Saturday afternoon but did not name his Sunday pitcher.

Word from Philadelphia was that Don Cardwell (9-10) would be the Phil starter against Burdette in the last night game. Robin Roberts (15-16) and Jim Owen (12-11) will work the other games.

The Phillies have given the Braves plenty of trouble this season although Milwaukee holds an 11-8 edge in the season series.

Dodgers Run Into Problem --- 'Giant - Killing' Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — Will the Los Angeles Dodgers prove another fly walking into the spider's parlor which is Wrigley Field? The host Chicago Cubs, fresh from all but wrecking the flag changes of the San Francisco Giants, can make or break Los Angeles' championship bid in a three-game set beginning Friday.

Meanwhile, the Milwaukee Braves—now tied with the Dodgers for first in the hectic chase which ends Sunday — entertain the lowly Philadelphia Phils.

Manager Walt Alston will send his 17-game winner, Don Drysdale, against the Cubs' Glen Hobbie (16-13) in the opener. Hobbie has never beaten the Dodgers, having an 0-4 lifetime mark against them and 0-2 this season.

Alston guessed Johnny Podres and Roger Craig would hurl for Los Angeles in the semifinal and final games of the season.

"We're keyed up and ready to go," said Alston Thursday as the Dodgers arrived in time for an afternoon workout at Wrigley Field.

"I can't see that our players are too tense," Alston continued. "We played under pressure in San Francisco and St. Louis and won four out of five. And it was a tough one we lost in St. Louis."

"This looks like a fight right down to the last game."

Alston said he hoped sturdy Gil Hodges would be able to start against the Cubs. First baseman Hodges was hit on the left forearm by a Bob Miller pitch in Los Angeles' 3-0 victory at St. Louis Wednesday night.

Phils Rehire Pilot Sawyer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies contributed a refreshing note to the major league baseball scene Thursday. They blamed the club's last place finish on the players and rehired Manager Eddie Sawyer for another year. Terms of the new contract were not disclosed.

General Manager John Quinn asserted that weak hitting, poor fielding and playing mistakes mired the Phils in last place in the National League, not Sawyer. Quinn said he and owner Bob Carpenter and Sawyer were going right to work on the job of improving the team for next year.

Asked if he wanted to be congratulated or consoled in his reappointment, Sawyer laughed and joked, "Ask me that next September." Then, turning serious, the former college professor who in his first term as Phillies manager (19-48/1952) led the club to a pennant in 1950, observed:

"We should be improved next season. We played much better ball over the last half of this year in spite of some crippling injuries. We played almost 300 ball the last half."

Both Sawyer and Quinn agree that while the team may be improved by off season deals, the basic help has got to come from the farm system. The champion Buffalo team of the International League and playoff finalist Williamsport of the Eastern League have some "live" prospects.

Stroudsburg High To Host Emmaus Eleven At Giffels

ONCE-VICTORIOUS Stroudsburg High makes its first showing of the season at home tonight when the Mountaineers entertain Emmaus (2-0) at Gordon Giffels Field, starting at 8 o'clock.

Walt Bjorn's proteges will go into the contest underdogs as the Green Hornets invade Giffels with impressive victories over Parkland and Quakertown. Stroudsburg won its opener, rallying for a 21-19 victory over Lehighton.

The Mountaineers, hampered by minor injuries, finished up drills for the Green Hornet test yesterday with all hands ready for action today.

Bjorn expects to start a backfield of Warren Loney, sophomore quarterback; Davey O'Connor, the fullback who tallied twice against Lehighton last week; Bill Schoonover, left half who is still bothered by an ankle injury; and Henry Ray, newcomer to the varsity, at right half.

On the line, the Mountaineers will go with Ray Davies and Gary Reish at ends; Ron Schuman, newly discovered place-kicker and Bob Ford at tackles; Al Edinger and either Al Hennett, or Jim Farry at guards. Hennett still is nursing a knee infection and may be sidelined periodically.

Only 4 Lettermen
Emmaus only has six returning lettermen but two are quarterbacks and they rate with the best in scholastic passing circles. Barry Roeder, a swift runner, besides having aerial wizardry, leads the Hornets at attack.

His running mate is fullback Bob Hallman, a power lad. Coached by Luke Lobb, former Penn Argy resident, Emmaus has been termed the "darkhorse" in the Lehigh Valley Football League's championship race.

Lead Attack
Stroudsburg's attack is built around dare-devil signal-caller Loney, and block-busting runners Schoonover and O'Connor. Last week O'Connor carried most of the offensive load because Schoonover was hobbled by an injury.

However, Bjorn hopes that Schoonover, along with Baylor and Wright will be able to go at full speed for the Mountaineers tonight.

Stroudsburg also is expected to have Loney skirting on options to keep the Emmaus defense honest. Also a Loney or Schoonover aerial game is anticipated if the Hornets bottle up the Mountaineers ground maneuvers.

Final Races At Nazareth Oval Sunday

NAZARETH — Big news this week at the Nazareth Fairgrounds centers around several items.

There'll be a doubleheader program Sunday with a complete program of the modified stock cars and also a full race card for the strictly stocks. It is expected that more than 100 automobiles will be on the grounds to compete.

Second thing is that the program this week will be switched from night to afternoon. The show will begin at 2 p.m.

Finally, this will be the big windup of the 1959 season. No further stock car racing will be held at the Nazareth Fairgrounds this year.

All of the top drivers who have appeared at the track during the past weeks will be there for their final shot at the money.

Otto Harvi currently is leading the pack in total points. The four time champion from Easton can wrap it all up and add a fifth championship to his trophies if he stays well up front in the pack this weekend.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

For Friday, September 25, 1959
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—A so-and-so day you come along with that added "something." Don't wait for others to provide it. Re-assert your independence. Though the effort expended, don't undertake more than you can reasonably handle, however.
April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Plan your day so that you can wind up the week with little unfinished business. It will generate peace of mind and allow the mental processes to relax for new jobs ahead.
May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Be sharp, alert. Don't let good opportunities slip by. With concentration and coordinated action, you could reach a seemingly attainable goal.
June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Some inauspicious aspects. Though the Moon is your planet, reaching for it comes under the classification of wishful thinking. Keep feet on ground, plans within reason.
July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Don't bog through the day. A smooth, well-planned and executed program will be the forerunner to success. Be alert to opportunities. Though the Moon is your planet, reaching for it comes under the classification of wishful thinking. Keep feet on ground, plans within reason.
August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—You have a keen appreciation of talent and a job well done; you like to be among the successful DOERS. More power to you! Recognize your capabilities, and shortcomings, too. Work for a record day, too.
September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Venus, "your" ruling planet, says: "Watch your step in love affairs, investments, tackling untried ventures." Greater precision in your work can be the herald of genuine gains.
October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—January 21 to October 23 (Scorpio)—This is a day of a determined individual. That is fine so long as you don't become stubborn. Use your best judgment in planning the course to follow. This will be a challenging day, but you should find it stimulating.
November 24 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—This day's rays suggest that you be on guard, against schemers, charlatans. Exercise care and good judgment before starting new projects. Be alert, but tactful, too.
December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Think things out before acting. A cheery disposition is half the battle. Others enjoy working with you when you display the real YOU. Persistence will overcome obstacles.
January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—Planetary rays haven't much to offer. So step out on your own and perhaps give your novel twist. Be practical as well as theoretical. It is a gain and a step forward. We don't stand still, remember? Every gain, no matter how small, is a gain and a step forward. Dexterity, tact can help greatly in home matters.
February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—You BORN TODAY are just fond of the truth, affectionate, can be strong in defense of those wronged or unfortunate. You have great personal magnetism and persuasive powers. You may not always follow set rules or a specified system, yet you have a cunning know-how about the right way in which to arrange things. But remember, we all must follow laws and cooperate with others. Avoid stubbornness or one-way tactics. Artistry, scientific ability strong.

WELCOME — Mrs. John B. Potter, East Stroudsburg, pins a rose on United States Rep. Francis E. Walter at Mountain Lake House, Marshalls Creek, last night. Walter spoke at a Monroe County Honorary Society dinner. Story and another picture on Page One.

Khrushchev's Trip Ends In Mystery
WASHINGTON (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev's tour around the United States ends in an intriguing mystery. The mystery is: Did the people he met, the factories he saw, the fields he tramped and the politics he talked make any real impression?

President Eisenhower hopes to get some answer to this question in talks at Camp David, Md., over the next three days.

But there is considerable evidence to suggest that in Khrushchev's own view the far more important question is: What impact did he make on the people he talked to, joked with, and sometimes angrily shouted at?

In essence the possibility which dominates the interest of some of the best informed U. S. officials is that Khrushchev traveled the United States not to learn but to teach, and that his thick, time-hardened crust of Communist doctrine effectively insulated his mind against any profound new impressions.

On other points of speculation there is less uncertainty in high official quarters over significant aspects of the trip. These points are notable:

1. By his persistent crusading for the Communist system, his cocky, even arrogant predictions of Red triumph, his temperamental outbursts of anger, Khrushchev on balance has probably hardened the conviction of millions of Americans the Soviet Union will continue for a long time to be an extremely dangerous, tricky, perhaps sinister rival.

2. Simply by his coming here and being received by Eisenhower, Khrushchev has probably succeeded in softening the attitudes of many foreign governments and peoples. Some State Department authorities talk about his having gained a "mantle of respectability. For many countries in Africa and Asia and maybe even some in Western Europe the spectacle of Khrushchev and Eisenhower shaking hands and talking together in friendly fashion is enough to blur the line between the antagonists and make many foreign leaders wonder whether they should water down their own hostility.

3. Insofar as basic policy considerations are concerned, Khrushchev apparently expects the United States, not the Soviet Union, to do the changing to make possible an end to the cold war. He evidently came here with that intention. His talk about disarmament, Berlin, peaceful coexistence and the ultimate triumph of Communism are in line with established Soviet political and propaganda policy.
